32) Deciphering Figurative Language

You can now define and identify the different kinds of figurative language. On the next page, I want you to explain the meaning of each of the examples given. Use full sentences to explain the comparison being made for each of the examples.

1. Trying to keep my brother from playing video games is like trying to keep a vampire from drinking blood.
2. Her ego is the size of my house.
3. My friend and I are two peas in a pod.
4. I nearly died laughing when I watched that mean kid fall all the way down the stairs!
5. She gets to be on top of the pyramid in cheerleading because she's light as a feather.
6. That guy thinks he's Romeo, but he's more like Tweedledum.
